HINDUS DRIVEN FROM COUNTRY

RESIDENTS OF BELLINGHAM, WASH., ATTACK BLACKS.

HOUSES AND MILLS RAIDED

MOB OF WHITE MEN FORCE FOREIGNERS TO LEAVE.

ARE HEADED TOWARD CANADA

Blacks Had Been Replacing Whites at Mills and Indignation Ran High—Hindus Are British Subjects Authorities Have Been Notified.

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Sept. 5.—Six badly beaten Hindus are in the hospital, 400 frightened and half-naked Sikhs are in the jail and corridors of the city hall, guarded by policemen, and somewhere between Bellingham and the British Columbia line are 750 natives of India—beaten, hungry and half clothed—making their way along the Great Northern railway, bound for Canadian territory and the protection of the British flag.

The long-expected cry, "Drive out the Hindus," was heard throughout the city and along the water front last night. The police were helpless. All authority was paralyzed and for five hours a mob of half a thousand white men raided the mills where the blacks were working, battered down doors of lodging houses and, dragging the invaders from their beds, escorted them to the city limits with orders to keep on going.

Houses Cleaned Out.

The trouble started at C and Holly streets, a district with Indian lodging houses. The houses were cleaned out and the denizens started on their trek for the Canadian line. The mob then swept down to the water front and the mill was visited, the white employes joining the mob and every black man was hustled outside.

Here the police suggested that the undesirables be taken to the jail. This was hailed with delight and the blacks were hustled along. From this time on every few were beaten and the bloodthirstiness of the mob seemingly was satisfied during the attack on the lodging houses.

The mob kept up its work along the water front until early this morning, when Larson's mill, at Whatcom Lake, was visited and 100 blacks brought in from there.

Four women were found this morning among the crowd in the city building.

Quiet Now Reigns.

The city is quiet today, but there is a strong undercurrent of opinion, which apparently approves the action of the mob, and it may be found impossible to prosecute the leaders.

Racial feeling has played but a small part in the affair.

Every day whites are being replaced in the mills by blacks. The invaders have become bold and insolent, many instances of women being pushed into the gutter, insulted on street cars, etc., being reported. General uneasiness of the whites is given as a reason for the outbreak.

The Hindus are all British subjects, and their case is being placed before the British authorities.

Mayor Takes Charge.

Following a special meeting of the city council this morning, Mayor Black took charge of the situation. Fifty armed specials were sworn in and the mayor declares as many more will be provided, if necessary, to give the blacks full protection. Jobs have been offered the Hindus again by millmen and protection guaranteed, but the Hindus have been so thoroughly frightened that they are drawing their pay under police protection and were disposed to leave for Vancouver during the day.

Mob spirit is still rampant and it is said further attacks will be made tonight if any of the foreigners remain. The city and county authorities, however, say they will be able to cope with any emergency.

Larson's mill at Lake Whatcom, five miles distant, one of the largest in the country, will close down owing to the trouble.

SHOOTS FAMILY; SUICIDES

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 5.—Charles Bailey, a teamster, tonight shot and killed his wife and her 12-year-old daughter, Rhoda Bradley. Bailey then shot himself to death. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey have not been living together and she has been supporting herself and daughter by working in a laundry. Tonight, while more or less under the influence of liquor, it is alleged, Bailey went to his wife's home at 253 Grant street and committed the crime.

W. P. TAKES YOSEMITE ROAD

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—It is reported that the Yosemite Valley railroad, an 85-mile line, running from Mercede to the entrance of the Yosemite national park, has passed into the control of the Western Pacific and will be operated by that company when its transcontinental system is completed.

The road is said to have cost its builders approximately $50,000 per mile.

ACTION AGAINST ICE TRUST

American Ice Company Will Be Prosecuted.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Attorney General [illegible] announced tonight that he will begin an action this month against the American Ice company for the purpose of having that company deprived of its right and authority to transact business in this state. The attorney general says the complaint against the ice company in substance will be that it has violated the laws of this state, in that it has entered into combinations for the creation of a monopoly, restraint of trade and for the prevention of competition in a necessity of life.

KERMIT QUITS TROOPS

LIONIZING TOO MUCH FOR PRESIDENT'S SON.

Is Forced to Flee From Women and Girls Along Line of March. "Dear Boy" Is Last Straw.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—It developed today that Kermit Roosevelt, the son of the president, who was making the march from Fort Leavenworth, Kan., to Fort Sheridan, Ill., with the Thirteenth cavalry deserted the soldiers at Joslyn, Ills., because he could no longer endure the lionizing to which the girls and women subjected him.

The squadron of cavalry, with which young Roosevelt rode, is today marching between Elgin and Chicago and is expected to arrive at Fort Sheridan tomorrow morning.

Lieutenant Philip Sheridan said today:

"We have not heard from Kermit since he left at Joslyn, Ills., two weeks ago. All along the march he was lionized and great crowds would visit the camp to see him. They would not leave him alone even at mess and curious people would pull back the flap of the tent where he was eating. Early one morning while we were at Joslyn an elderly woman invaded his tent while he was still in his cot. She patted him on the cheek and called him a 'dear boy.' She was only acting in a motherly spirit and seemed proud that the president had such a fine son. However, that was the last straw for Kermit and he said that he would take a train to Chicago and we have not seen him since."

Kermit joined the cavalry at Fairfield, Iowa, and rode with it for seven days.

ONLY ONE FLEET

CREATION OF SECOND SQUADRON IS NOT PLANNED.

BIG WARSHIPS WILL RETURN

Vessels Under Command of Admiral Evans Will Not Remain in Pacific Waters—Panama Canal May Prove Convenient in Moving Fleet.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—It is authoritatively stated at the navy department that the president does not contemplate the creation of two battleship fleets. Nor does Secretary Metcalf, nor even the general board, which is supposed to represent the extreme view in naval development favor either the division of the present magnificent fleet under Admiral Evans' command, or the creation of another fleet in order that there may be a formidable American navy in both oceans—the Atlantic and the Pacific. On the contrary, it is regarded at the navy department as better policy to maintain one perfectly equipped—well drilled, free to move at will to any part of the globe at short notice and the present plans contemplate the increase of the strength of the existing Atlantic fleet from 18 to 28 battleships. This will afford a command as large as can be properly directed by any one officer and it will moreover about mark the capacity of the ports and dry docks in any particular section of the world. So it is asserted positively at the department that there is not the least intention of keeping the battleships, which will go to the Pacific permanently, in those waters. That fleet, it is added, will surely return to the Atlantic seaboard after it has fulfilled its mission and demonstrated the feasibility of transferring such a vast naval force between oceans.

Panama Canal Convenient.

It is suggested at the navy department that before the gathering of a similar number of naval vessels in the Pacific becomes necessary, the problem will be solved by the completion of the Panama canal.

It is pointed out at the department that even were the president or the department so disposed, it would be impossible for them to provide for another such fleet as Admiral Evans's present command, without congressional authority.

Several battleships, notably the New Hampshire, Idaho and Mississippi and the three fleet scout cruisers Salem, Birmingham and Chester, are under construction on the Atlantic seaboard, but naval officers say that before any of these ships will be in commission, the Atlantic fleet probably will have returned to eastern waters.

Problem Unsolved.

It is stated at the navy department that beyond his determination to have the Atlantic fleet return to its home

FRANK C. GOUDY FOR PRESIDENT

COLORADO HONORED AT IRRIGATION CONGRESS.

NOMINEE HAS NO OPPOSITION

ELECTION IS SCHEDULED FOR SATURDAY MORNING.

THORNLESS CACTUS FOR FEED

Luther Burbank, Expert on Plants, Is Considering. Experiments Which May Prove of Great Value to Stock Growers. Resolutions Presented.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 5.—Forestry, agriculture and irrigation were the main features of addresses listened to by delegates to the National Irrigation congress today.

A cablegram from Governor Frear of Hawaii announced the appointment of E. E. Paxton as delegate from that territory. There are now accredited delegates to the congress from Europe, Asia, Africa, Oceanica, North and South and Central America, Hawaii and the Philippines.

The first address of the morning was that of E. A. Sterling, chief forester for the Pennsylvania Railroad company. He delivered an interesting talk on "Forestry and the Railroads."

The relation of range products to the water supply was the subject of A. F. Potter, chief inspector of grazing of the United States forest service.

Another feature of the session was an address by F. William Rane, forester of Massachusetts, who spoke on "State Forestry and Forest Administration."

Goudy for President.

At the meeting of the committee of permanent organization, Frank C. Goudy of Colorado was the only one nominated for president.

George E. Barstow of Arizona was named for first vice president; Judge J. E. Baker of Modoc county, California, second vice president; and Herbert E. Strain of Montana, third vice president.

The election of officers is scheduled for Saturday morning.

Congressman Smith of California offered a resolution declaring the price for timber cut from government forest reserves was too high and the excess should be refunded. An amended resolution, introduced by Frank Goudy on the subject, was adopted, declaring that there should be no thought of making a profit for the government through the sale of timber or granting of grazing privileges. Bona fide miners, stockmen and farmers should be only charged a rate for such privileges as would meet the government expenses.

A resolution was introduced by the Outdoor league department of the California club, through its chairman, Mrs. Lovell White, declaring that Niagara Falls are menaced with destruction through the rapidity of the power companies located on both sides of the river. The resolution, which was referred to the committee on resolutions, urged that the congress approve the act of the American Civic association, in its attempt to preserve unimpaired Niagara Falls and urging congress to enact necessary legislation.

Thornless Cactus.

Luther Burbank, the expert on plants, who appeared before the congress last night, was again called on for an address. He told the congress of his experiments in trying to produce a thornless cactus. He had all but succeeded, he said, a lack of the nutrition desired being the only obstacle to be overcome. He predicted that this thornless cactus would become the great rouser of the arid region for all kinds of stock relish it and fatten quickly.

About 200 tons can be grown per acre; an extraordinary output compared with other kinds of feed. The development of the high nutrition is being assiduously pursued by Burbank and the grazing men will soon have some important news from the wizard. A delegate asked Burbank if he had a secret of developing plant life and if the secret would die with him. Burbank replied that he had no secret and that he was always glad to assist others.

IMPROVEMENTS STOPPED

Railroads in South Abandon Double Track Work.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—It was announced at the seven railway headquarters in this city that owing to recent adverse railroad rate legislation in several southern states and to "general conditions," the double tracking of the Southern railway between Chattanooga and Ottewah Junction in Tennessee, north of Greensboro, N. C., has been ordered stopped pending further instructions. Contracts had been entered into for double track work in Tennessee aggregating about $15,000,000. The money intended for the proposed improvements in Tennessee and North Carolina has been withdrawn and will be used in operating the road.

WAS IT SUICIDE PACT?

MUSCATINE, Iowa, Sept. 5.—Bodies of a young man and a girl clasped in each other's arms were found in the Mississippi river today. There is nothing on the bodies to establish their identity. The police are undecided whether the pair grasped each other in drowning accidentally, or whether they entered into a suicide compact and leaped into the river in a last embrace.

BRADLEY TRIAL IS POSTPONED

Slayer of Former Senator Brown Must Answer Murder Charge at Washington, November 11.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The trial of Mrs. Annie M. Bradley, indicted for the murder of former United States Senator Brown of Utah, which was set for October 7, probably will be postponed until November 15. When the court convenes in October District Attorney Baker will ask for the continuance and it is understood the attorneys for the defense will consent. Mr. Baker and Assistant District Attorney Given will leave next Tuesday for Salt Lake City and Vera Cruz, Cal., to cross-examine those witnesses who will not be brought to Washington for the defense and from whom depositions are to be procured for use at the trial.

UP THE PEAK IN AUTO

HEAVY TOURING CAR MAKES TRIP UNAIDED.

Carries Seven Passengers and Full Equipment—Second One to Succeed—Hazardous Journey.

A large, heavy touring automobile, owned by J. D. Hollingshead of Denver, president of the Motor Car company of Chicago, containing six other passengers in addition to the owner, climbed Pike's Peak via the old Cascade canon route yesterday, making the trip in exactly four hours. The party left the Antlers hotel at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning and arrived at the summit of the Peak at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The distance of 21 miles was made practically without accident, the only damage to the machine being to its fenders, which were badly bent by striking boulders lying along the road.

Mr. Hollingshead returned to Manitou on the Cog road yesterday afternoon, leaving the other members of the party and the automobile on the summit over night.

Second to Make Trip.

This is the second automobile to make the hazardous climb up the Peak and the first to complete the trip absolutely unaided, with full equipment, and carrying other passengers besides the chauffeur.

In the automobile with Mr. Hollingshead were Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Colton, also of Denver; Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Green and son of Shawnee, Okla., and the chauffeur, F. W. Leland of Cleveland, O. Mr. Leland is an expert chauffeur of many years' experience. He has driven cars through rocky, dangerous passes in France and Italy, and has been in most perilous positions, but he is quoted by Mr. Hollingshead as saying that yesterday's trip up the Peak was the most hair-raising adventure he has ever experienced.

First Unaided Trip.

A lone chauffeur drove an automobile up Pike's Peak several years ago. The machine was stripped of all superfluous equipment and mules were required to pull it over several steep stretches. Mr. Hollingshead's machine, therefore, can be credited with making the first unaided trip to the summit of the mountain. This car is a Stearns of 45-horsepower.

The grade up the Peak by way of the Cascade road averages about 7 per cent, and in some instances runs as high as 10 or 12 per cent. The extremely difficult nature of the climb is shown in the fact that a grade of a fraction of 1 per cent is easily noticeable. When the gasoline motor car loaned by the Union Pacific to the Colorado Midland tried to make the 4 per cent grade from Manitou to Woodland park recently, the engine was found incapable of making the climb, and the test was abandoned.

The average grade on the Cog road to Pike's Peak is 17 per cent, and this is overcome by the use of the cog system.

MONSTER LAND FRAUDS

THOUSANDS OF ACRES WERE ILLEGALLY FENCED.

Steals in Imperial Valley Will Be Made Public.—Sensational Evidence.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 5.—Many rumors and much semiofficial activity continues with reference to the repeated charges of big land frauds in the Imperial valley. For several weeks L. R. Glavis of the government land office at Oakland has been making a quiet investigation of the conditions there. None of his findings was made public.

Today Sigel E. Skinner, one of the early complainants, who has been carrying on a private investigation, made public many charges of fraudulent entries and illegal acts with reference to land titles in the valley. He instances many alleged violations of law, giving names and location of the land. In one case he charges that 2,000 acres have been illegally fenced in and the public prevented from making entries on it. The holders, Skinner says, have gone so far as to burn the houses of two squatters who took up locations on the land. They also threatened to shoot any intruders. The charges will assume the shape of testimony in the first land contest case from the Imperial valley, which is scheduled to be heard before the receiver of the Los Angeles land office, November 4.

MONUMENT TO LATE PRESIDENT

M'KINLEY MEMORIAL IS DEDICATED AT BUFFALO.

TRIBUTE TO MARTYRED RULER

GOVERNOR HUGHES MAKES THE SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE.

BLOW AIMED AT INSTITUTIONS

Speaker Dwells on Tragic End of President McKinley, Who Died at Hands of Assassin Who Was Against Government and All It Represents.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 5.—The dedication of the McKinley monument and its presentation to the state by the monument commission was the feature today of the Old Home week celebration. The program included a parade, in which two brigades of the Twelfth United States infantry, two regiments New York National guard, Thirteenth Royal Canadian regiment of Hamilton and the Royal Fusileers of London, Ont., participated. The dedication ceremonies began at 3 p. m. There were addresses by Mayor Adam, Harlan J. Swift, department commander of the New York G. A. R., and Mrs. Donald McLean, president-general, Daughters of the American Revolution.

The presentation of the monument to the state was made by Chairman E. H. Butler of the McKinley Monument commission, and acceptance of the monument by Charles E. Hughes, governor of New York.

Governor Hughes said:

The memorials of a free people are erected to commemorate public service and the distinction of noble character. The conqueror, lustful of power, and the seeker after self-aggrandizement are not counted among the heroes of democracy.

The people honor those, who in their service to their fellow men, honor humanity.

Blow Aimed at Institutions.

Here was marked the tragic termination of a great career. Here, in an awful moment, there were revealed in a sudden lurid flash the opposing forces whose conflict is the history of mankind. At a time of rare prosperity, when American industry and commerce were celebrating their triumphs with every circumstance of proud display in a city of almost unprecedented progress, the powers of darkness moved to their attack and in an infernal frenzy of hate, an abject creature struck down the foremost and best loved of American citizens. Never did evil commit a more dastardly deed. The victim was the chosen representative of the American people, no less representative in his death than in his life. The assassin's blow was aimed at American institutions, represented in the head of the nation and McKinley fell because he was our president.

In memory of his martyrdom, in memory of an heroic death, in testimony to the futility of insensate envy and the lasting supremacy of law and order, in memory of a worthy life crowned by its sad sacrifice, this monument has been erected.

A Grateful People.

The vitality of democracy may be measured by the generosity of its tributes to fidelity and its appreciation of honorable motive and public spirit. Cynicism is a destroying canker, and in proportion as we revere those who in the past have borne the burdens of the republic, gratefully recognize our indebtedness to their services and profit by the lessons of their experience, shall we prove our capacity to meet the demands and solve the problems of a later day. An ungrateful republic can not endure.

Services of him in whose honor we meet were an imperishable part of the nation's history. Having fought gallantly in his youth throughout the period of civil strife, to preserve the Union, it was his high privilege in his last years to reside over the destinies of the nation when with a revived and intensified national consciousness he assumed the enlarged and unexpected responsibilities which followed upon a war carried to a notable victory under his leadership and supported by the people in unselfish enthusiasm for the cause of humanity. It was his happy lot to be chosen the chief executive of the nation after a contest which vindicated the sanity of the public judgment and established new confidence in the working of our popular institutions. With restored credit the country under his administration, quietly recovering from the depression of trade, entered upon a period of extraordinary expansion and prosperity.

William McKinley sought patiently to learn the people's will and faithfully to execute it.

McKinley's Admirable Traits.

It is a significant and gratifying characteristic of the American people that more than the particular benefit conferred by service they prize the virtues of character, which in the course of service are exemplified. Fidelity to friendship, the exquisite grace of a husband's devotion, the honor of manhood, the beauty of the forbearance of unwearied patience, endeared William McKinley to the hearts of his fellow citizens and in their memory eclipse the glories of an administration flattering to American pride.

We may see but dimly into the future. We may be confused by the perplexities of our modern life, made the more difficult by the very riches of our inheritance, but as we set our course by the pole star of truth and justice and conserve the ideals of character which our fathers have taught us to revere, we shall not fail.

Description of Monument.

The monument dedicated here today in memory of William McKinley was erected by the state of New York, on a site approved by the city of Buffalo. It is in the form of an obelisk of white marble 88

IN HANDS OF RECEIVER

Mattoon City Railroad Unable to Pay Its Debts.

MATTOON, [illegible], Sept. 5.—Following a wreck last Friday that resulted in the loss of 17 lives and injury to two score passengers, the Mattoon City Railway company and the Central Illinois Transfer company, owned by Chicago stockholders, today went into the hands of a receiver. The companies voluntarily made application for a receiver. The bill filed says that the companies are unable to meet debts. Two mortgages covered the road. One is for $350,000 and the other for $150,000. The capital stock is $500,000.

EARLE A MOHAMMEDAN

ARTIST LAYS STRANGE ACT TO HIS RELIGION.

Visits His Attorney and Settles Large Sum on Wife He Has Just Put Away.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Ferdinand P. Earle, whose strange domestic condition has brought him much publicity and whose wife sailed yesterday for France, where she is to secure a divorce in order that her husband may marry his "affinity," came down from his country home at Monroe, N. Y., today to make a settlement of part of his estate upon Mrs. Earle. He visited his attorney's office and executed papers necessary to the settlement of a certain sum upon the wife he has just put away. The exact amount was not stated by Earle or his counsel, but was reported to be about $40,000. Mrs. Earle and the young son of the couple sailed yesterday for the wife's former home in France, where, under the arrangement entered into, she will begin proceedings for a divorce.

Regarding the agreement reached between himself and wife as to their separation Earle said: "I lived for seven months among the Arabs in Egypt and studied their religion and their domestic beliefs. You may say that that had something to do with my decision. I studied Mohammedanism. My present action inclines to the belief of that religion."

ELEVEN ARE DEAD

FIRE IN HOTEL IN WASHINGTON STATE FATAL.

GUESTS JUMP TO THEIR DEATH

Frame Structure, Three Stories in Height, Is a Veritable Death Trap—Cigar in Sample Room Is Supposed to Have Started the Blaze.

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 5.—At least 11 are dead and several others more or less seriously injured as the result of a fire, which destroyed the Webb hotel at Shelton, 20 miles from Tacoma, last night.

Miss Bailey and Mrs. Mudge, both of Shelton, are known to be among the lost. All the other victims are believed to be men. Seven bodies have been recovered.

The following are known to have perished:

MISS IDA MAY BAILEY, waitress.
WILLIAM HOLMES, master mechanic in Peninsular railroad shops.
LEORA BIDEAUX, bartender.
PEARL F. LARSON, butcher's boy.
MRS. GAY, employe of the hotel.
D. J. HENNESSY, lodger, Seattle.
SAM HOLT.
MRS. MUDGE.
MR. AND MRS. W. J. WESTVALL.
UNKNOWN MAN, jumped from third story through skylight to kitchen floor and was killed.

Eight or nine are still unaccounted for.

The hotel was a three-story frame with front and side stairs, but no elevator.

Cigar Causes Blaze.

The fire was discovered about 1:40 this morning. It had started in the hotel annex probably from a lighted cigar dropped in the sample room. The hotel was a three-story structure. The top floor was occupied by a number of loggers, but the exact number is not known. Within a few moments of the time the fire was discovered the hotel was a mass of flames. Screams and cries for help were coming from almost every window and there were dozens of people risking their own lives to help bring out the unfortunates.

The hotel occupied a corner of a block in the center of the city that was solidly built of frame structures. Those in the upper stories were entirely cut off from the stairway and at least seven or eight jumped from the windows before help could reach them from the outside. Ten are known to be dead and one dying. All but three were killed by jumping from windows.

Shelton has no organized fire department, but the fight made both in the life saving and the efforts to put out the flames, would have done credit to a larger city. The town is supplied with a gravity water system which has a heavy pressure on the mains. Three inch and a half hose lines were laid and with them the fire arrested and finally put out.

BRYAN SCORLS TAFT SOUNDLY

COMMONER DEFENDS CONSTITUTION OF OKLAHOMA.

SECRETARY GREAT POSTPONER

REFORMS SHOULD BE INAUGURATED, BUT—NOT YET.

ANSWERS MR. TAFT'S SPEECH

Nebraskan Attacks Views of War Secretary and Scores Him for Placing His Personal Ambitions Ahead of the Welfare of the People.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 5.—Ten thousand persons heard Wm. J. Bryan here tonight reply to the recent address of Secretary of War Taft, upon the Oklahoma-Indian Territory political situation, in convention hall, and 5,000 persons, unable to secure admittance to the auditorium, attended an overflow meeting nearby. Mr. Bryan was enthusiastically received.

In addition to scoring Secretary Taft soundly for placing his personal ambitions above the welfare of the people of Oklahoma and attacking the views of the secretary of war on national policies, Mr. Bryan declared that the constitution of the proposed new state was even better than that of the United States.

Today Mr. Bryan spoke at Vinita, Sapulpa, Tulsa, Bristow and Chandler, Oklahoma.

Taft a Postponer.

In his Oklahoma City address, Mr. Bryan said in part:

Secretary Taft, in his speech made in this territory a few days ago, advises the people to reject the proposed constitution and postpone statehood until another enabling act can be secured. At first blush, one might suspect that the secretary's advice was due to his personal interest in the next election. He might be accused of advising the postponement of statehood with a view to keeping seven electoral votes out of the Democratic column; but the more generous view to take of the matter is that his advice resulted from his habits of thought. He is inclined to postpone everything. He promises to abolish the title of the Great Postponer. In a speech made not long ago at Columbus, O., he announced himself in favor of tariff reform, but he would postpone it until after the next election. He also made an elaborate argument in favor of the income tax, but he would postpone it indefinitely. He agreed with the president in regard to the wisdom of an inheritance tax, but that, too, he would postpone until a more convenient season. He did not seriously object to the valuation of railroads, but he did not declare for it immediately. He is on the way to the Philippines to tell the Filipinos that, while he thinks they ought to have self-government after awhile, he wants it postponed for the present. It is not strange, therefore, that he should yield to his ruling spirit in the matter of statehood and tell you to put it off.

Mr. Bryan took up, one by one, Mr. Taft's objections to the Oklahoma constitution and argued against the soundness of the secretary's contention. Mr. Bryan continued:

Lacked Frankness.

The secretary, after picking out everything that seemed objectionable and ignoring every provision of the constitution that seemed good, proceeded to make an argument in favor of Republican policies in the nation. He asked you to cast your lot with the Republican party rather than with the Democratic party. If he had been frank with you, he would have told you that the only popularity the Republican party has is due to its adoption of a part of the Democratic platform. But if he had told you that, you would have replied that it would be better to join the Democratic party and lead a reform than to join the Republican party and follow hesitatingly after the Democratic party has pointed out the way. He appeals to you to stand by protection, although he did not enter into any argument on the subject.

Have you read his Columbus speech? If so, you will find in it an arraignment of protection as we have it today—an appeal for a revision of the tariff, but he paralyzes the force of his own speech by postponing the tariff reform until after the election.—Tariff reform is never undertaken by the Republicans just after a Republican victory, because the victory is taken as an indorsement of the policy and is never undertaken before an election for fear it will interfere with another Republican victory.

Tariff and the Oklahoman.

The people of Oklahoma have no interest in the maintenance of a purely protective system, for they sell in the open markets of the world and buy in the restricted markets of America. The cotton raised in Oklahoma sells for the same whether it is made up into cloth in the United States or in Europe, for the foreign price fixes the price here, and the same may be said of the wheat, the corn and the cattle produced by the farmers of Oklahoma. And yet, when the farmers attempt to invest their income in the things which they need, they not only find prices increased by the protective tariff, but still further increased by the combinations which manufacturers have formed to take advantage of the tariff. The farmers of Oklahoma will find little consolation in the fact that, while American manufacturers sell abroad cheaper than at home, Republican leaders like Secretary Taft are insisting that no reform shall be attempted except through the Republican party and with the consent of the tariff barons themselves. Secretary Taft did not discuss the trust question; he wisely avoided it because he fav-

On four sides of the base of the column are the following inscriptions:

This shaft was erected by the state of New York, To honor the memory of William McKinley.

The twenty-fifth president of the United States of America.

William McKinley was born at Niles, Ohio, January 29, 1843.

Was enlisted 23rd Ohio Volunteers, June 11, 1861.

As major he breved for gallantry, under fire.

William McKinley was elected to congress as a representative of Ohio in 1876, 1878, 1880, 1882, 1884, 1886.

Elected governor in 1891 and 1893, and president of the United States in 1896 and 1900.

William McKinley died in Buffalo, September 14, 1901.

Victim of a treacherous assassin, who shot the president while he was extending to him the hand of courtesy.

The monument was built under the direction of a commission composed of E. H. Butler and George R. Matthews of Buffalo, John G. Milburn of New York, formerly of Buffalo, and at whose home President McKinley died, and E. A. Curtiss of Brooklyn. Today saw an end to their work, when Governor Hughes formally turned it over to the commission, a work complete in every detail and of rare artistic beauty.

LONG SIEGE IS FEARED

FRANCE IS ALARMED AT MOROCCAN SITUATION.

Diplomatic Difficulties with Other Powers of Europe May Develop. Spain to Send More Troops.

PARIS, Sept. 5.—While there has not been mere fighting at Casa Blanca since the fierce engagement of Tuesday, the seriousness of the general situation in Morocco and the possibility of its leading to difficulties with other powers of Europe, notably Germany and Great Britain, to say nothing of the apparently growing necessity of increasing the size of the French force on the Moroccan coast, is occupying the attention of the French people. The press is calling attention to the difficulties of keeping within the terms of the Algeciras convention and the call to convoke parliament to discuss and decide what course the nation should pursue is becoming more insistent. There is a growing feeling that the important decisions in the matter of France's policy in Morocco should not be left entirely to the members of the cabinet.

The seriousness of the fighting of Tuesday in which Major Provost of the foreign legion was killed, further details of which were published today, has brought home to the French people a comprehension of the persistent resistence of the Moors and a realization that France may be only at the threshold of a protracted campaign that may prove costly in lives and money. The situation is now referred to as a "war" and no longer as heretofore as an "expedition of pacification."

No other power yet has been drawn into the difficulty, but Germany is watching the progress of events in Morocco more closely every day and as it becomes apparent that the situation there is not improving, it is intimated in Berlin that the Algeciras convention, under the terms of which France and Spain are acting in Morocco, prescribes certain limitations and that France is approaching the bounds beyond which she should not go without first obtaining the special permission of the powers.

The situation at Mazagan is reported to be growing more threatening and the exodus of Europeans from Tangier continues. Premier Clemenceau, however announced today that there was no reason to believe that neither Abdel Aziz, the reigning sultan, nor Mulai Hafig, his brother, who has been proclaimed sultan in the south, intended to make war against France.

Native advices received at Tangier declare that 20,000 hostile Moors have concentrated not far from Casa Blanca and that 10,000 Cabile tribesmen have mobilized near Alcabaza.

Spain is preparing to send reinforcements of men and ships to Morocco. One Spanish battleship, the Emperador Carlos V., arrived at Tangier today.

The government announced today that it was convinced that the serious conflict in which eight Frenchmen were killed near Casa Blanca occurred Tuesday, September 3, and that Vice Admiral Philibert's cable message of yesterday referred to the same engagement.

TANGIER, Sept. 5. A courier arrived here today from Mulai Hafig bearing a letter ordering the Moorish notabilities here to transact business only with his finance minister at Morocco City.

Advices received here from Fez today announced that the ministry had advised Sultan Abdel Aziz that it would not be wise to engage in a holy war at present as the French had not invaded sacred territory. The Spanish battleship Emperador Carlos V. arrived here today.

It is understood here that the British legation is actually treating with the bandit Raisuli for the release of Caid Sir Harry MacLean, who has been his prisoner since early in July. Raisuli's terms have not yet been made clear, but it is declared that even if they are somewhat extravagant, the Moroccan government will accede to them.

POLAR EXPLORER LOST

CAPTAIN MIKKELSEN AMONG THE MISSING.

All Trace of Steamer Duchess of Bedford Lost, and Crew, It Is Feared, Has Perished.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—It is reported from Athabasca landing, in the Canadian northwest, that the steamer Duchess of Bedford, in which the Mikkelsen Arctic expedition was working its way into the polar regions, has been lost. All the reports agree to this, but there is uncertainty as to whether Captain Mikkelsen was with the ship when she went down. The news was brought into Athabasca landing by a steamer in the service of the Hudson Bay company.

CHRISTIANIA, Sept. 5.—Captain Ronald Amundsen was interviewed here today in regard to the alarming news that the steamer Duchess of Bedford, upon which the Anglo-American Arctic exploration expedition under Captain Elmer Mikkelsen was making its way into the north, had been lost.

Captain Amundsen said he believed the members of the expedition were alive. He thinks that in all likelihood they had sufficient time to save themselves and place their stores on the ice before their vessel sank. If this be so, they have with them provisions to last for seventy days. Altogether, Captain Amundsen takes a very hopeful view of the situation of the expedition.

The Anglo-American exploration expedition sailed from Victoria in May of 1906 on board the Duchess of Bedford to seek a large stretch of land believed to exist in the Beaufort sea. It numbers 15 persons all told, including Ernst Leffingwell, a Chicago geologist.

The expedition was heard from in March this year. The letters then received were dated November 21 and 23, 1906, and had been carried over the ice fields to Point Barrow, where they were delivered to the Canadian mounted police.

CHOATE IS VICTORIOUS

PERMANENT COURT OF JUSTICE A CERTAINTY.

American Delegate Declares He Won't Leave Hague Until His Pet Project Is Worked Out.

THE HAGUE, Sept. 5.—Joseph H. Choate, one of the American delegates to the peace conference, is credited with the statement that he will not leave The Hague until his pet project for the creation of a permanent international high court of justice has become an accomplished fact and at today's meeting of the examining committee, under the presidency of M. Bourgeois, which is dealing with this matter, he had the satisfaction of securing approval for the entire American project with the exception of the paragraph referring to the allotment of judges. In a powerful speech Mr. Choate urged the committee not to permit its differences on the matter of the allotment of judges to interfere with the solemn duty devolving upon it of satisfying either permanently or provisionally the universal demand for the establishment of such a court. "It would be ominous in the last degree for us to confess our inability to discharge this duty," Mr. Choate declared.

He suggested a number of solutions for the difficulty regarding judges, including a proposal for the elimination of judges by the whole conference voting by states, each state exercising absolute equality. He maintained that this method would assure equality of sovereignty as well as equality in all other respects. Each nation would take its choice, he said, of a successful canvass. Mr. Choate then mentioned a long list of jurists of world-wide renown, including certain delegates to the present conference, from among whom they might easily form a court which would command the confidence and admiration of the entire world.

Speaking for the United States, Mr. Choate continued: "I would be perfectly willing to intrust the fortunes of the court and the success of the conference in creating it to the results of such an election. So sure am I that the establishment of this court would be a great triumph for civilization and justice and an effectual goal for the peace of the world, that I urge with all the earnestness of which I am capable, the adoption of one of the provisional schemes now suggested. If no permanent method for a choice of judges can now be agreed upon, I trust that laying aside all national differences, all pride of opinion and all desire to assure special advantages for our respective nations, we will devote ourselves with one mind and heart to the solution of the problem now before us."

Mr. Choate's appeal resulted in the appointment of a committee composed of Mr. Choate and James Brown Scott (United States), Baron Marschal Von Bieberstein (Germany), M. Bourgeois (France), M. Nelidoff (Russia), Count Tornielli (Italy), Herr Merri Von Kaposmen (Austria-Hungary), and Dr. Barbosa (Brazil), to examine the question of the allotment of judges. This committee will meet September 10 [illegible] has been decided that the judges of the court are to receive a fixed salary of $2,400 a year and in addition $40 a day while sitting on the court.

Article 7 of the American project, which provided that the high court yearly appoint three judges with three substitutes constituting a special tribunal which can, if necessary, try cases elsewhere than at The Hague, has been changed so as to give the three judges the name of "special delegation" instead of "special tribunal." The whole court will be called the "court of arbitral justice."

M. Nelidoff, president of the conference, sent out notices tonight convoking a plenary sitting for Saturday, September 7.

STRIKE OF CARMEN AVOIDED

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 6 (12:45 a. m.).—After a majority of the union employes of the street railway company were reported to have voted in favor of going on a strike at 6 a. m. this morning, and all hope of a settlement seemed gone an agreement was reached at midnight whereby the strike is delayed, if not called off entirely. A citizens' committee, headed by Mayor John Hammet, with a committee representing the employes and the officials of the company and the company officials, finally accepted a proposition to arbitrate the differences.

POLYGLOT PARLIAMENT.

The new parliament elected for the first time under universal suffrage held its preliminary sitting the other day in Vienna for the members to be sworn in. Eight different languages were used by the deputies in taking the oath. The members wore buttonholes to denote the parties to which they belonged. Thus the Christian Socialists had white carnations, and the Social Democrats red carnations and the pan-Germans had cornflowers. The Social Democrats did not join in the cheers for the emperor, but showed their respect for his majesty by standing up when cheers were called. They will also send a deputation to the imperial palace to hear the speech from the throne on Wednesday.

CASE NOW IN U. S. COURT

Portland Spending Thousands to Save One Dollar.

Spending thousands of dollars to keep from paying a judgment of $1, in order that the principle involved may not be used as a basis for future damage suits, the Portland Gold Mining company of this city, which appealed from the judgment, is defending the case brought against it by Frederick Hermann in the United States circuit court of appeals.

Hermann filed suit in the United States district court for $50,000 damages, claiming that the Portland company was using ore screening apparatus patented by him. The Portland company produced models showing the difference in the two patents and Hermann was awarded only $1 damages. In order that a precedent be established involving the Portland company's right to use the device, the management perfected an appeal to the United States circuit court of appeals, the hearing of which began yesterday.

Miss Corelli writes: "This is the three hundredth anniversary of John Harvard's birth, and his mother was married from the house which I have taken such loving personal pains to restore. There is a tradition that he was really born in it and baptised in Southwark some weeks after his birth."

DOYLE MAY WED AGAIN

Gets License but Says He Is Not to Be Married.

The issuance of a marriage license to James A. Doyle and Marie Duffy in Denver, yesterday morning, gave rise to a report that the couple were about to be married after their long struggle against the edict of the potentates of the Catholic church prohibiting the wedding, despite emphatic denials by both Miss Duffy and Mr. Doyle.

Doyle is well known in this city as a former partner of James F. Burns in the ownership of a large block of stock in the Portland Gold Mining company. The two have been engaged in litigation over millions for many years in the district court at Council Bluffs, Ia., and are now bitter enemies.

After his divorce from Mrs. Doyle, formerly Miss Belle Sutton, the mining man desired to marry Miss Duffy, an employe of the Denver Dry Goods company. Owing to the fact that he is divorced the Catholic church, to which both belong, forbade the union. A session of the ecclesiastical court was held in Denver in February, 1906, to pass on the rights of the couple to marry, but to no purpose, and the church refused its sanction.

LONG AUTO TRIP—Traveling from Dallas, Tex., to [illegible] car, a 35-horse-power automobile, A. Moore, R. D. Kinney and [illegible] arrived in this city yesterday. They left Dallas August 6 and will remain here several days before continuing their journey.

Alleging that during the latter part of their 27 years of married life his wife made existence unbearable by reason of her unbridled tongue, William Johnson was awarded a divorce from Zadee Johnson in the county court yesterday. They were married in Wilson county, Kan., February 14, 1880.

JEWETT ELECTED PRESIDENT

Heads Joint Good Roads Committee. Plans for Improving Highways Soon to Be Formulated.

By the election of W. K. Jewett as chairman and Henry Russell Wray as secretary, a permanent organization was effected in the Chamber of Commerce building yesterday afternoon by the joint committee of 15 appointed by the five civic organizations of Colorado Springs to push the matter of improving the county roads and city streets. Three members each were appointed by the Real Estate exchange, Chamber of Commerce, Merchants association, Good Roads association and Automobile club.

President Jewett of the joint committee will name an executive committee of five within a few days to formulate plans for road improvement.

The special object of the joint committee is to circulate petitions among the taxpayers of this city, requesting the city council to set aside a reasonable sum for permanent road improvements, and to confer with the county commissioners to the end that they avail themselves of the recent public highways act, which provides for a system of highways in this state by convict labor. The principal road, extending from Trinidad north, will pass through Pueblo, Colorado Springs, Denver, Longmont, etc.

BIG REAL ESTATE DEALS

Yates & McClain Sell San Luis Valley and Eastern Colorado Land.

Among the big sales in San Luis valley land during the last week is one by Yates & McClain of 1,600 acres, to William Wooton of Lampasas, ex., for approximately $32,000. Mr. Wooten is a large land owner of Texas, but will probably lease his property in the Lone Star state in order to personally superintend the cultivation of the Colorado land just purchased.

Another important transaction by Yates & McClain is the sale of 640 acres of land near Bovina, in eastern Colorado, to Conrad Minger of Indiana. This property, which was purchased by the realty firm for $5 per acre two years ago, was sold to Mr. Minger for $15 an acre. The purchaser will spend several thousand dollars in improving the tract.

station, President Roosevelt has not decided how the fleet shall return to the east. The general board and Admiral Evans, with his staff, have prepared plans and full itineraries for return cruises by way of the Straits of Magellan, by the Cape of Good Hope route and by the north Pacific route, via Manila and the Indian ocean and Suez. Two months' notice will be sufficient to enable the navy department bureaus to execute all of the preliminaries, such as accumulating ample supplies of coal at convenient points for the execution of any of these itineraries so that the president has until probably next July to decide. Secretary Metcalf left San Francisco last evening for the Bremerton naval station on Puget sound, and after he has completed the examination of that station and ascertained how many of the battleships of Admiral Evans' fleet can conveniently be accommodated there, he will return to Washington and begin the preparation of his annual report, devoting special attention to the problem of the new naval construction to be recommended to congress at the approaching session. The understanding is that at least two battleships will be suggested.

Interesting Information.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Some interesting information bearing on the dispatch of Admiral Evans' battleship fleet to the Pacific, is published in the Times today, and is credited to a high authority.

The administration, it is stated, does not mean to confine the fleet's movements to the Pacific coast. The president's plan is to send the warships on to Hawaii and then to the Philippines, after their visit to California ports. When orders are issued for their return, the route designated will be via the Suez canal. Thus the fleet will circumnavigate the globe.

It is further learned that in the meantime the Atlantic coast will not be left unprotected, but that at the instance of President Roosevelt, the navy department has already begun to plan the mobilization of another fleet to replace that under Admiral Evans.

The flagship of the new fleet will be the New Hampshire, a 16,000-ton battleship, which is to be ready for commission early in January.

As soon as possible, she is to be joined by the Mississippi and the Idaho, two first-class battleships now under construction by the Cramps, and nearing completion. These three powerful vessels will serve as consorts three veterans of the Spanish war—the battleships Iowa, Indiana and Massachusetts—which are now being modernized.

This fleet of six battleships will have as its auxiliaries the three new scout cruisers, which are almost ready for service—the Chester, Birmingham and Salem. Subsequently, the new Atlantic fleet will be reinforced by the two 16,000-ton battleships, Michigan and South Carolina, and the two fast armored cruisers of 14,500 tons, each, the North Carolina and the Montana.

The New Hampshire is similar to the Connecticut, Admiral Evans' flagship, in type, but the Idaho and the Mississippi, which are 13,000 tons each, are of a type peculiar to themselves.

They are noted for the power of their armament, notwithstanding their relatively small tonnage. The Chester, Birmingham and Salem are of 3,750 tons each, and they are to be capable of 25 knots an hour speed.

Mahara's Minstrels all colored, are in their twentieth year of success. This is without a doubt the oldest colored minstrel company on the road. They have for years been making a tour of the country from one end of the United States to the other. The name Mahara is a household word, and wherever this show hails forth they are sure to have a rousing big house. The Maharas this season carry a dozen fine girls who are a whole show by themselves. They put on a big singing chorus, thus giving both the entertainment that the ordinary company does; besides this attraction they also have their own orchestra and band. Watch for the big parade that they present on the principal streets at about noon. They will give a performance at the Opera house on next Tuesday evening.

"SAPHO" AT THE OPERA HOUSE TODAY

Mr. Theodore Lorch and his excellent company will present this afternoon and tonight at the Opera house, Olga Nethersole dramatization of Daudet's French novel, "Sapho." It is undoubtedly a bold attempt as the play was suppressed in New York city when originally produced by Olga Nethersole. However Mr. Lorch assures us there will be nothing presented that will offend. The famous staircase scene has been toned down and other features that were considered risque eliminated.

The play of "Sapho" is a story of the half world. "Sapho" being a French model who has admirers by the score, but gives her love to a student and after he sacrifices friends, position and everything making life dear—she returns to her first love—her husband. It is a story well told in a breezy fascinating manner and with Mr. Lorch and his clever company will surely be a theatrical treat long to be remembered by the patrons of our theater.

Saturday matinee and night, Mr. Lorch and company will repeat by special request "The Lieutenant and the Cowboy." This is an elaborate production written especially for Mr. Lorch and gave such universal satisfaction Wednesday night that many requests have come in for another opportunity to witness it before the company leaves the city.

For that reason Mr. Lorch has consented to give these two special performances.

AFRICAN "WITCH DOCTOR" WITH PAWNEE BILL'S SHOW.

An African "witch doctor" and a physician from Persia are among the foreign contingent with Pawnee Bill's Historic Wild West and Great Far East Show, which will be here for two performances on Wednesday, Sept. 11, and the showman invites sufferers from physical ailments to make a free test of their abilities.

Unjojo, a black man from the inner depths of Africa, was cured last week by the "witch doctor" of the troupe of as bad a case of rheumatism as ever afflicted human being, and the native practitioner is being solicited to treat the troubles of several white men of the show.

The African has, too, what the natives declare is a sure cure for headache. A horn is filled with a mixture of ground nut oil and a medicinal bark known as "unchanya" and the concoction is administered to the patient by dropping it into the ear. Another remedy called "gwandere" is relied upon to cleanse the internal body.

Mirza Tago Khan is the physician of the Persians. He accompanied them from their far-off eastern homes. He is an old man, with a long beard, dyed a fiery red and wears the drab skull-cap of his country. His outer garment is of sheep skin, fitting loosely over a long tunic of blue cotton. The lower part of his legs are bare and almost as dark in color as the woven socks which cover his feet. His shoes are left outside the door of a patient's house and his tread becomes as noiseless as that of a cat.

The natives have great faith in Mirza Tago Khan. They fear American diseases and call for his services at every unwonted physical sensation. He apparently relies most conspicuously upon the aid of Allah, whom he invokes at every step of his treatment. He has a decided tendency to bloodletting and a delight in strong medicines.

Pawnee Bill was walking about his encampment in Chicago one morning, it is told, when he encountered splash after splash of crimson. Inquiring cause, he learned that the Persian medicine-man had been making his rounds. By blood-letting he had treated a cold, a headache and a pain in the stomach.

FRENCH WIN CASE

The French government has won its case in the English courts over the right to use the name "Chartreuse" in selling in England the famous cordial which was made by the Carthusian monks before they were expelled from France. As the sequestrator of the Carthusian property the government has continued the production of the cordial and sold it under the old name. But the expelled monks have set up a new distillery in Tarragona, Spain, and claimed that the name still belonged to them exclusively. As far as England is concerned, the high court of justice declares that the French government, on the expulsion of the monks, became entitled to the business of La Grand Chartreuse, particularly including the distillery and its assets and "good will," which last has a somewhat ironical sound.

ARE ADONISES

The natives of the Tonga or Friendly islands, off the east coast of New Zealand, are said to be the finest in physique of any on earth. The average height of the males is five feet ten inches. They weigh from 160 to 200 pounds and are very straight, being built in proportion. The women average a greater height than the women of America. They have fine, strong figures and average from 130 to 160 pounds in weight. They are of a copper color, straight haired and with features which made the Greeks famous.

BRYAN SCORES TAFT SOUNDLY

[illegible] taking a backward step on that question.

Secretary Taft also made a plea in favor of imperialism. Well the people of Oklahoma have had enough experience with imperialism government to know something about a colonial policy. If officials appointed by the federal government are so unsatisfactory, what must be the feeling of the Filipinos against officials of another race sent across the ocean to administer a government?

Philippine Question.

I am glad that Secretary Taft has referred to the Philippine question, for his discussion shows that he believes in a colonial policy and that he disputes the doctrines set forth in the Declaration of Independence. While he himself seems disposed to acquiesce in the suffrage amendments adopted in the south, he overlooks the fact that the black man of the south is treated much better than the brown man of the Philippines. The black man of the south has the protection of the constitutions, state and national, while the constitution is denied to the Filipino. The black man of the south has also the protection of home rule laws which the white man makes for himself, while the Filipino lives under laws which the white man makes for the Filipino, laws under which the white man would not himself be willing to live.

Then, too, the secretary confuses two questions that are entirely distinct. The question in the south is not whether the black man is capable of self-government; it is whether he is capable of conducting a government under which both he and the black man must live; in other words, whether he is capable of governing the white man; while the question in the Philippines is whether the brown man is capable of governing himself. For the white man of the south to insist as a matter of self-preservation on administering the government under which both he and the black man must live is one thing; for the white man to cross the Pacific ocean and fasten a government on an alien people is entirely another proposition, and the secretary is confused on fundamental principles if he can not see the distinction. Imperialism costs us more than $100,000,000 a year. It weakens us by exposing us to foreign attack and lays us open to the suspicion of having abandoned the idea of self-government.

PARKING CASCADE AVENUE.

IT IS encouraging to note that a petition, signed by the owners of more than one-half of the property in the district affected, has been introduced into the Council asking that a parking district be created for the improvement of Cascade Avenue from Cache la Poudre Street to Platte Avenue. Several years ago this splendid residence street was parked from the north side of the College campus to Del Norte Street; a little later General Palmer paid the cost of improving the two blocks extending through the campus, and within the present year the work has been finished on an extension of the middle parking for several blocks north from Del Norte Street.

Thus we have a continuous parked area from Cache la Poudre Street almost to the northern city limits, embracing the best part of the residence district. There are special reasons why the work should not stop here, but should be carried south at least as far as Platte Avenue, and, if the consent of property owners can be secured, to Bijou Street. The portion of Cascade Avenue from Cache la Poudre south to the business section is seen by thousands of visitors every year who never get as far north as the present parked district, and its improvement would thus be of considerable advertising value. Again, parking is doubly desirable in this portion of the avenue, because its elevation is so much greater on one side than on the other—amounting, at the corner of Boulder Street, to about four feet—that it is almost impossible to maintain a good roadway there or to make its appearance attractive. This difficulty could be easily overcome by parking. But in our opinion the improvement should be carried at least one block farther south; indeed, it might well be extended even to Kiowa Street.

PARKING SHOULD BE EXTENDED.

The business district on Cascade Avenue now ends at Bijou Street, and it is not likely ever to go much farther north. The avenue is so wide that there would still be abundant space for all of the traffic as far south as Kiowa Street, even if it were parked. We have always believed that it was a mistake to remove the middle parking from Nevada Avenue between Bijou Street and Pike's Peak Avenue, for the additional space thus gained certainly has not been needed by traffic, and the greatest beauty of the street was sacrificed when the double row of trees and sod were removed. Now that Cascade Avenue is about to be improved, it would be almost as great a mistake not to make a thorough job of it by extending the parking at least to Bijou Street.

TAFT'S STRENGTH IN THE MIDDLE WEST.

FOR the benefit of people who like to discount events before they happen, The Chicago Tribune is making an effort to learn whom the Republicans of the country favor for the Presidential nomination next year. It has secured answers from about 1,700 congressmen, state officials, newspaper editors, and chairmen of state and county committees in ten of the middle western states—Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Missouri and Kansas. If this straw ballot is a correct index of the feeling of the Republican party throughout the country, Secretary Taft has already won his fight and the other aspirants might as well withdraw while there is still time to do it gracefully.

The big head of the War Department leads with 544 votes. Speaker Cannon comes next with 191, while Governor Hughes holds third place with 184. Then comes Fairbanks with 159, followed by President Roosevelt with 155—evidently the expressions of the kind of people who can not take no for an answer. Senator Knox trails along at the rear with 19 votes. It is probable that the comparatively large vote for Speaker Cannon is due to the large number of Illinois people included in the canvass, for Illinois wants it understood that Cannon is her "favorite son," whether he has any real chance for the nomination or not. So, too, with Fairbanks, for in Indiana, anyway, they take his candidacy seriously.

Though Taft has a very decisive lead in this canvass, he still lacks considerable of having a majority, but it is safe to assume that most of the 158 people who expressed themselves as in favor of Roosevelt would be for Taft as an alternative choice, because he is Roosevelt's candidate. This would certainly give him a substantial majority over all of the five other candidates and supposed candidates named.

EVIDENCE OF TAFT'S POPULARITY.

Straw votes are usually more entertaining than enlightening, especially when they are taken a year in advance of the event with which they are concerned. But in this case there is hardly a doubt that the expressions correctly interpret the opinions of Republican voters in the ten states named. The evidences of Taft's abundant popularity are too plain to be mistaken. One of the characteristics which the people most admire in Roosevelt is his tremendous energy, and in this respect Taft is a worthy second. Though his duties as Secretary of War nominally require his presence in Washington, he is on the go a great deal of the time, and wherever he goes the result is apparent in the betterment of the conditions he set out to deal with. He makes flying visits to the Philippines, or to Panama, or to Cuba, and immediately things begin to hum with new life and activity.

Taft has a way of getting things done and accomplishing actual results which is very fascinating to the people. He creates an impression of tremendous power and reserve force, and it seems perfectly natural to expect great things from him. And finally he is neither a hidebound conservative nor an out-and-out radical, so extremists of neither type really have anything to fear from him. If elected President he would undoubtedly carry out the Roosevelt program, but he has too big a brain of his own not to impress his individuality upon his administration. It is absurd to suppose that with Taft in the White House, Mr. Roosevelt or any other man would run the administration for him.

THE "DECEASED WIFE'S SISTER"

From the New York Herald.

The house of lords has at last passed the bill permitting a man to marry the sister of a deceased wife. As long as many of us can remember, that "deceased wife's sister bill" had been periodically fought through the commons and defeated by the lords. From the New York Herald.

Intelligent and open-eyed New Yorkers see how many real abuses are left untouched have no patience with the efforts of the police and courts to prove that the owner of a "knock disc game" conducts a gambling establishment. It would be as reasonable to contend that shooting at a target for prizes is gambling.

WEALTH.

From the Philadelphia Ledger.

Mingled with the arraignment of ill-gotten gain there is much canting criticism of all wealth. The man who rises from poverty to independence by honest dealing, so far from deserving envy, hatred and all uncharitableness, is entitled to public respect. It is the duty of the poor man, so far as in him lies, to improve his estate. It is as incumbent upon such a man to accumulate money honestly as it is upon the ignorant to gain knowledge. In the railing accusations against wealth in certain quarters it is assumed that all fortunes are in some sense "tainted." The virtue of wealth turns upon the means by which it is acquired and the uses to which it is applied.

BRYAN'S FLOUNDERINGS.

From the Richmond News-Leader.

We cannot remember to have seen a man in public life fall more rapidly and fall more completely than Mr. Bryan has done since his return from Europe. He has staggered and flopped and floundered about like a chicken with its head off, or a pugilist struck hard on the point of the jaw. We realize the fact that he has been in the embarrassing position of finding his own ground occupied by his opponent. Nevertheless, it does seem that high statesmanship or even well-developed political sagacity and experience—and certainly he has had experience enough—should have suggested to him some way of pulling himself together and coming before the country in a sane and reasonable position.

TYPICAL HIGH FINANCE.

From the Philadelphia Ledger.

There has been no more flagrant example of that kind of "high finance" which reached its culmination a few years ago than in the consolidation of the various passenger railway systems of Greater New York and the manipulation of their securities. It was perfectly well understood, even by "innocent investors," that these successive operations would not bear the scrutiny of any conservative authority in finance, law or morals, but the value of the property was so enormous, the franchises so incalculably productive, that there appeared no limit to the load that they would bear, and only the more cautious perceived that, even with such resources, inflation might reach the bursting point.

"SUCCESSFUL UNSCRUPULOUSNESS."

From the New York Evening Post.

We doubt if many readers of the Evening Post think it overfond of the methods of the Standard Oil company, or too gingerly in expressing its mind about them. Yet we were recently taken to task by a venerable clergyman, now retired, for being far too lenient with Rockefeller, Archbold, Rogers and the rest. We are willing meekly to accept his rebuke, for the sake of obtaining the testimony which he bears. He writes:

"I know these men personally. Many were my parishioners, though we never talked business. And I do know that none of them ever impressed me with the colossal mental power necessary to become so much richer than all men. The reason was successful unscrupulousness."

MAJORITY JURIES.

From the Kansas City Journal.

In some quarters it will be regarded as heresy, if not revolutionary, to intimate that the American jury system is not so solemnly sacred that any modification thereof would be sacrilege. But in numberless instances, and especially in recent costly trials, it has been proved that the requirement of unanimous decisions has defeated the ends of justice, caused immense and unnecessary costs and accomplished not only no good whatever, but has worked a positive detriment.

There have been some spasmodic efforts at jury tinkering, and in some states, under restricted conditions, nine jurors may bring in a verdict. But as compared with the workings of the system as a whole throughout the country, the reform has been inconsiderable. When a majority of one elector in the electoral college will decide the presidency of the United States, it really seems absurd that it should require a unanimous jury to determine the guilt or innocence of a horsethief. The vote of one senator prevented the impeachment of a president of the United States, but one stubborn juror, often from exceedingly questionable motives, has caused a miscarriage of justice far oftener than he has prevented the punishment of a guilty defendant. It is entirely unfair that one man should successfully oppose the combined judgment of eleven, and as this is a country of majority rule, the agitation for a majority jury verdict, or even a three-fourths majority verdict, is timely.

In Scotland, according to a recent writer, juries are composed of fifteen members, and a majority vote is the decision of the jury. There is no special reason for changing the number of jurors, and the superstitious appropriateness of having twelve men on the jury may well be continued. But the combined opinion of nine, if not eleven, of the jurors should be sufficient to decide at least the greater proportion of cases. Under our theory of law every man is innocent until he is proved guilty, and it is better that 99 guilty men escape than that one innocent man be punished. It is well to throw around every man the utmost safeguards, but there is every reason to believe that the cause of justice will be subserved by the abolition of the requirement of unanimity.

THE PRICE OF COAL.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

The Merchants association has been active, and properly so, in looking after the interests of our people involved in certain changes made by the Rock Island railroad at Roswell. A very much more important matter it has thus far overlooked. The wiping of Roswell entirely off the map would not be so disastrous to our people as the late advance in the price of coal, particularly of lignite coal. The operators say that the advance from $2.50 to $3.75 per ton has been made necessary by the advance in the wages of teamsters and miners, whilst the latter say that they receive only 1½ cents per ton more than they received two years ago when coal sold at $2.50 per ton.

Let the Merchants association or the Chamber of Commerce, or both, appoint a committee to ascertain who gets the benefit of the rise of $1.25 per ton, and all the facts relating to the cost to the operators of laying down lignite coal in town to the consumer. Let them also report the heating value of lignite coal as compared with other coals in the market. The organizations above named can in no way be of greater benefit to the town than by such an investigation. The Chamber of Commerce of Greeley has begun such a work.

RECKLESS AUTO DRIVING.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

I have read with interest the editorial in this morning's Gazette in regard to automobiles and agree entirely with what you say. I have written to the mayor assuring him of the most cordial co-operation of the Automobile club in enforcing the city ordinances and the rules of the road with reference to driving automobiles in the city. The club has recently been reorganized with two objects prominently in view. First, more efficient assistance to the city authorities in enforcing the ordinances relating to automobiles, and so removing all ground for prejudice against their use in the city; and, secondly, the promotion of the good roads movement in El Paso county.

According to our observation, violations of the ordinances rarely occur when the owners of automobiles are driving them, or are present in the cars. Driving at excessive speed usually occurs when chauffeurs are alone in the cars, or when boys are taking the cars to and from garages, and it is greatly for the interest of owners of automobiles to know when this occurs, and to have such misuse of their cars stopped.

Today's Horoscope

Friday, September 6, 1907.

"Lie on thy oars today; fate's course is set
With puzzling tides the mariner to fret."

This is the 248th day of the year; moon's age, 28 days.

There is a sign in the skies today: "Swift terror holds the roads." Cross neither highway or byway between dawn and midnight without first spying carefully for danger from fast vehicles. Beware of railroad tracks. Those using automobile, or carriage, truck or bicycle this day must be doubly cautious, for it is an ill day for danger from wheeled traffic.

In business and social affairs there is no certainty in any direction. Postpone all important matters about which even a vestige of doubt exists. Be particularly careful in signing receipts that there shall be no clause in them to make future trouble. Buy nothing but tangible things this day.

Those whose birthdate this is must take heed to their temper in the coming year. Their business will cause them much worry and many matters will arise to annoy them so seriously that they will be tempted sorely to give way to sudden wrath. If they yield, their business will suffer heavily, or if in employment, they will lose their positions. If they rule their tempers, all their difficulties will begin to disappear by the end of the year.

The child born today will be so clever that learning of any kind will come almost naturally to it. Despite this, it should remain in employment, because it will be altogether too prone to undertake things without sufficient preparation, banking on its cleverness. It will need restraint and a balancing factor throughout life. If a girl, she will marry happily. The faults to be guarded against in early youth are overconfidence and presumptuous pride.

Colossal New Singer Building

Already Highest Structure in the World It Will Rise One Hundred Feet, or Eight Stories Higher.

From the New York Times.

If a giant should station up one of the towers of Brooklyn bridge, slice it down the middle, half way between the arches and put one half on top of the other, he would have a structure about as large as the tower of the new Singer building as it soars above lower Broadway, near Liberty street.

Already the building is the highest of its kind in the world. Like magic the lacelike steel skeleton is being lifted above the surrounding skyscrapers, dwarfing the tallest and dominating the landscape in every direction. When a reporter climbed up through the cage of steel girders last week and stood on the staging of the thirty-fourth story, he was as high in air as the dome of Philadelphia's city hall and the topmost visitors' gallery in the Washington monument. Far beneath him were the roofs of the highest office buildings previously devised by men in a region of skyscrapers. Yet eight more floors and 100 feet of steel, brick, and terra cotta were still to rise above him.

Wonderful as the new tower already seems to people in lower Manhattan, its real proportions are obscured by the towering structures around it. The crane on the top of the tower last week was 500 feet above the pavement. When the skyscraper is finished, the flagstaff will be 652 feet above the ground. The next highest buildings in the neighborhood are the City Investing Company building, 400 feet high, and the Park Row building, rising 382 feet above the sidewalk. The Singer tower will be just twice as high as the Waldorf-Astoria and the Diana on the Madison Square Garden. The mountainous bulk of the largest Egyptian pyramid soars 485 feet in air. The dome of St. Peter's in Rome is 400 feet high.

Climbing the Tower.

The building of which the Singer tower forms a part will have an area on its 42 floors nine times larger than that of City Hall park. It will weigh as much as the largest ocean steamship with all its equipments and passengers. The terra cotta to be used in the tower alone would form a line of baked clay a mile long. Its windows and doors would suffice for a block of four-story city residences.

Progress on the structure in the last few weeks has been little short of magical. The first girders of the tower were riveted in place on the roof of the 14-story Singer building on July 2. Two weeks later the people on lower Broadway began to see the lacelike skeleton soaring above the surrounding office buildings. The workmen were then at the twenty-first floor. Since then four stories have been added every week.

The climb into the tower began where the neighboring skyscrapers ended. The old Singer building, at Broadway and Liberty street, a ten-story structure built 10 years ago, was of the oldfashioned type, the walls supporting the superstructure. This building method is now reversed so that the walls are merely screens for the steel skeleton.

Seven floors are being added to the old building. On the lower floors business was going on as usual in the offices uninterrupted by the erection of great steel columns that support the seven additional stories. Atop this new skyscraper the tower begins its upward course 300 feet in air.

Building Nearing Completion.

The ascent was like a panorama of a skyscraper from its inception to completion. An elevator is already running to the twenty-first floor, or as high as the roofs of the neighboring office buildings. Level to the eye seemed the American Surety Company building, with its 23 stories; the Bank of Commerce structure and the Empire building, each with 30 stories, and the Commercial Cable Company building with 21 stories, exclusive of the dome.

On the lower floors of the Singer tower the screen walls are in place, the window sashes ready for glazing, the terra cotta floors ready for their final layer of cement. The great steel columns that form the superstructure form continuous courses of steel each more than two city blocks in length.

542 Feet Above the Ground.

On the floors above the broker or business man will go through his daily routine 38 stories or 524 feet, above the ground. At such a height the faces in the windows will seem like mere specks in the sky. Even the usual architectural details will be merged in the structural mass. The windows and doors on each floor, for instance, would be more than enough for the typical four-story dwelling on Manhattan. There are 36 windows in each tower floor and 25 in the average house, while the floor plans show at least 23 doors to each tower floor. In other words, the 725 window sashes and 575 doors in the Singer tower, not counting those in the thirteen-story office building from which it rises, would be enough for at least a block of pretentious city residences.

"You want to go to the very top? Well, it's only a matter of desire and climb."

Thus one of the foremen parted with the reporter on the twenty-first floor. Upward extended endless ladders, through the great tower in its several stages of completion. On the lower floors the tower was ready for the screen walls, the skeleton finished, the floors in place. Sixty-three feet square, each floor seemed commodious enough. There was no sense of great height. Here, however, the curious structure of the tower was at once evident. Men had accomplished another wonder of the world only by an ingenious engineering feat.

Fighting the Wind.

Structurally, the Singer tower is not a building, but a bridge 600 feet long set on end. At such a great height as the dome will reach, the wind pressure was the main problem the engineers had to solve. Nothing, of course, stands between the tower and the storms from the Atlantic and the winter winds that sweep down from the highlands on the north. For 200 feet, or above the tower of the City Investing company building, 400 feet above the sidewalk, the singer structure rises through a region of undiscovered wind and air strata.

Never before have men confronted such a problem with nerves. The Eiffel tower is higher, but is a skeleton structure offering little resistance to the wind. On the other hand, the Singer tower offers a solid barrier of brick, terra cotta, copper, and wire glass, full 200 feet high and 65 feet wide on each of its four sides.

The engineers computed that a pressure of 30 pounds to a square foot was ample to make the tower safe even in violent storms. On a bridge this would be equal to an army of men, each six feet tall and weighing 200 pounds, standing in rows two feet apart and with three feet between each row.

Now Building Is Made.

The new form of structure a bridge truss set on end—was therefore decided upon. Those who watch the rise of the tower can identify it by the heavy pillars bound together by diagonal cross-beams. These connect the four pillars at each corner, or 16 in all, and the six pillars on the elevator shafts in the center of the tower. Each truss extends upward for two stories, the single windows at the corners being alternately below and above the beams. These columns and braces amount to a series of vertical trusses reaching from the foundations to the top of the tower, and act as cantilevers to throw the weight of the wind pressure on the foundations. The braces on the north and south are also stronger than those to the east and west, there being 11 panels braced on the former and 10 on the latter faces. All of this weight is borne by caissons sunk 70 feet below the sidewalk to solid rock and with an area of nearly 3,000 square feet.

Work on the Heights.

Upward soared the steel cage, floorless above the thirtieth story, a tangle of beams and timbers and of wooden stagings for the terra cotta blocks that were to bind the skeleton of the tower into a great storm-resisting structure. These blocks fill at least 2,000 square feet on each floor. Of an average length of 12 inches and a width of eight inches, the blocks in the 26-story tower alone would, if placed end-on-end, extend continuously for 5,876 feet.

Here the visitor looked down on the Brooklyn bridge, the neighboring skyscrapers, and the towers of the Park Row building, 382 feet above roadway.

Still upward, four stories more, the ladders extended through the network of steel pillars and beams so lacelike that all substantial support seemed to have been left behind. Ironworkers on hanging platforms filled their forges or tossed to and fro red-hot bolts that were soon driven home in the flanges and girders. On the uppermost stage of all a great crane was drawing the other swaying girders 500 feet in air.

Gazing Down at Skyscrapers.

Here the great height the structure has already attained was realized for the first time. Towering Manhattan looked as flat as a map. The skyscrapers below and the towers of Brooklyn and Manhattan bridges tilted backward in this leveling process. The Times building and the Hotel Belmont on the north, the Dreamland and Luna Park towers at Coney Island assumed a vague, almost intangible, lightness like candy boxes set on end.

The great liners leaving their docks in Hoboken are in sight for eight hours from this eyrie. They may be followed as they stream down the bay, past Sandy Hook, and out to sea, along Long Island beyond the Rockaways.

The roar of the city was completely silenced. Only the clang of a fire bell, the shriek of a whistle in the harbor, hardly defined, was borne up to the height. Crawling to the edge of the stage, the reporter looked down on Broadway, a sheer 500 feet. The cars and drays might have been sluggish beetles. The crowds were shifting masses of white pinheads, straw hats fastened to men's shoulders. Down there the sun beat on breezeless sidewalks. Here a stiff wind swept across the swinging stages. When there is a breeze on Broadway the men in the tower struggle with an incipient gale.

The Water Supply.

The great tower even outstrips modern invention in its internal arrangements. Although there will be nothing in the tower to burn, except the office furniture, it will have water storage sufficient for three skyscrapers of the ordinary sort. There will be a 5,000-gallon tank on the twenty-ninth floor, and a 3,000-gallon tank on the forty-second floor, just under the lantern. These will be independent of the 5,000-gallon tank in the Bourne building and three 6,000-gallon tanks in the Singer building proper. Every hour, 15,000 gallons of water will be used in the great structure, to say nothing of the 120,000 gallons available for the fire pumps. Seven gallons of ice water will float every minute through the fountains on each floor and down the throats of thirsty occupants. Four elevators will run from the level of Broadway to the thirty-fourth story, being the longest in existence. Another will carry tenants from the thirty-fourth to the thirty-eighth story.

Regiment Could Live in Tower.

If an invading army should seize Manhattan, a regiment could live in luxury in the tower. In the plans the typical floor will contain 16 good sized offices, or 400 on the 25 floors. This compares with the largest metropolitan hotels and, with two in a room, offers lodgings for 800 men.

The structure still to be added comprises an ornamental balcony, or trompe, extending 40 feet beyond the face of the tower at the thirty-fourth floor, three more stories of offices, and the great dome 50 feet high. The insignificance of dimensions at such a height is shown by the lantern that will crown the structure. Little more than a soaring ornament in the perspective of the building, it will be 61 feet square at the base, 60 feet high, 28 feet wide at the top, and surmounted by a flagstaff rising 652 feet above Broadway.

YOUR BOY'S FALL SUIT

It's always a step in the right direction when a mother buys a Hollbrook & Perkins suit for her boy.

If she buys them because she has had them before and found them superior, they'll meet the high demands she makes upon them.

If she gets them for the first time, she won't fail to note how much better service they give and how much more style they have than she has been accustomed to getting.

STATE SCHOOL RESUMES WORK

Enrollment Is Larger Than Last Year—Several Changes in Teaching Corps.

With an enrollment of 165 pupils, which is an increase of 10 over last year, the State School for the Deaf and Blind opened yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. All of the instructors who have been out of the city during the summer vacation have returned, and the new ones, appointed to fill vacancies, are in the city and have assumed their duties. The prospects are that the school will have the most successful year in its history.

Herbert J. Mendzimer of Beloit, Wis., has taken the place in the deaf department of Lawrence Milligan, who has accepted the superintendency of the Montana State School for the Deaf and Blind. Mr. Mendzimer is a graduate of Beloit college, and in addition to a year's experience in the schools of Council Bluffs, has taught in the Gallaudet Deaf and Blind school in Washington, D. C.

A. O. B. Molldrem of Minneapolis, Minn., a graduate of one of the colleges of that state, has succeeded Miss Mabel Park as an instructor in the deaf department. Miss Park recently resigned to be married. Mr. Molldrem has also taught a year in the Gallaudet school and has had several years' teaching experience in public schools.

Miss Ida M. Donald has replaced Miss Louise Sloan as a special teacher of the deaf and blind. Miss Sloan will teach in the primary deaf and blind department in place of Miss Myrna Woodruff, whose marriage also caused her resignation last spring. Miss Donald is from Sioux Falls, S. D., where she has been instructor in the deaf-blind school, and has seven years' experience in the work.

F. E. BROOKS DENIES REPORT

Says He Did Not Try to Hold Up Appointment of Nethers as Head of Springs Bureau.

Former Representative Franklin E. Brooks makes a most emphatic denial of a report published in the Denver News yesterday morning, to the effect that he tried to hold up the appointment of Wesley Nethers as superintendent for this city of the state free employment bureau. The News claimed that Mr. Brooks wrote a letter contending that Colorado Springs should not have an employment bureau, alleging that its population is only 23,000, whereas the bureaus are established only in cities having more than 25,000 inhabitants. The general trend of the article is to injure Mr. Brooks in the eyes of laboring people, his object in holding up Nethers' appointment, acording to the News, was to prevent the appointment of a man who would not further his candidacy for the United States senate.

Mr. Brooks said last night:

"I have seen the article in the Denver News. There is no truth whatever in the statement that I wrote a letter to the effect that Colorado Springs was not eligible to the appointment, nor have I said this to anyone whatever. That is not my opinion and never has been. On the contrary, when the question was raised some time ago as to whether or not Colorado Springs was eligible to the appointment, and the Chamber of Commerce became interested, I saw both the commissioner of labor and the attorney general's office, urging the establishment of the bureau here. This is easily capable of vertification, should anyone care to do so.

"As to the mater of Nethers' appointment, I see no reason why he should not make an excellent official, nor why his appointment is improper. I am sure that I and my friends are very well satisfied with Nethers as they are. I am not considering myself in any way in this appointment. I am sure that the United States senatorship will not be involved in any way by the establishment of this office.

"There has been no delay so far as I know, save such as was necessary for the selection of a proper and available assistant superintendent. I understand that this has been done and that the committee (El Paso county Republican Central) has already recommended an appointee, and that the appointment has been made by the secretary of state."

COMMITTEE IS AT AMITY

Will Return Here Today to Confer With Chamber of Commerce.

E. S. Murphy, R. R. Smith and Dr. G. E. Jones, three of the seven members of the national executive board of the Modern Woodmen of America, in the hands of which lies the choice of a site for the projected national home of that order, left Colorado Springs for Amity, Colo., yesterday, to consider the proposition of the Salvation Army to sell its buildings at that place to the Woodmen. The three directors favor Colorado Springs as a site, and will return here today to confer with the civic organizations of this city concerning the project.

IT'S "BOHEMIA" ALL RIGHT

A Denver correspondent writes as follows:

There was a gathering of prominent men in the Albany "Bohemia" Thursday, the like of which is never likely to occur again. Seated around various tables and enjoying their lunch, were ex-Governor La Follette, of Wisconsin; John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America; F. H. Morrisey, chief of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen; Senator Borah, prominent in the Haywood trial at Boise; W. D. Haywood and his attorney Mr. Richardson; H. H. Boone, of the United States District Attorney's office, Washington; Attorney Rust, representing the United States Secret Service bureau, the last three being in Denver in the interest of the government's case against the promoters of the Lost Bullion mine. Also C. W. Franklin, of Denver, attorney for the defendants in the above case.

LENNOX OUT OF GAME

MORRIS MAY CAPTAIN TIGER FOOTBALL ELEVEN.

Fans Already Comparing Strength of Teams—Interesting Developments Expected Soon.

William Lennox, captain of the Colorado College football team, will be unable to play football this season on account of poor health.

Tom Morris, [illegible], who was announced early in the summer, planned to go to Dartmouth this fall, may re-enter Colorado college and captain the Tiger eleven.

These announcements will be of special interest to football fans, now that the season is close at hand and followers of the game are already beginning to compare the strength of the various teams of the state.

Captain Lennox has written to members of the college athletic board that his doctor absolutely declines to consent to his playing this season. Lennox is now on a ranch in Texas, where he has been spending the summer, but is expected back in time to enter college on the opening day, September 11.

Morris is in Colorado Springs at the present time looking over the ground and, although he has not finally decided to re-enter the Colorado Springs institution this fall, it is believed by his friends that he will be on hand next week and will don his Tiger togs. In this event it is altogether probable that he will be elected captain of the team to succeed Lennox. Morris had a long talk yesterday with Coach Richards and members of the athletic board of the college, although he refused to commit himself as to his plans, contending that he has not fully made up his mind as to what to do. He will return to Denver today and will probably announce his decision by the end of the week. If he decided to go to Dartmouth the Tigers will lose two of their strongest men, for Morris and Lennox were among the best players of last year's squad. His final decision will be awaited with the greatest of interest in football circles.

CASES SET FOR HEARING

Four Claims Against Stratton Estate to Be Heard September 14.

Four claims against the Stratton estate were set for hearing on September 14 by Judge Robert Kerr in the county court yesterday. Only one claim, that of W. W. Smith for $525, for alleged breach of prospector's contract with the late W. S. Stratton, was not set. No service could be had on the plaintiff to notify him of the hearing, and the suit was not docketed.

The claims against the estate which will come up for hearing before Judge Kerr include that of C. S. Newton for $12,000. Newton claims to have cared for Mr. Stratton during his illness. The Portland Gold Mining company sues for $17,000, for ore alleged to have been extracted from their territory and Daniel Ross demands $360 for alleged services seven years ago. The last of the four claims to be heard September 14 is that of W. J. Chambers, who wants $8,200 physician fees.

Following is the September docket for the county court as arranged by Judge Kerr yesterday:

September 9: People vs. Fleishman; People vs. Parker; People vs. Johnson; People vs. Watson.

September 12: People vs. Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Ry. Co.; People vs. Shemwell.

POULTRY RAISERS MEET

DECIDE TO HOLD ANNUAL SHOW IN DECEMBER.

W. C. Ellison of Minneapolis Will Judge Exhibits—Delegates to Pueblo Fair Appointed.

At the first fall meeting of the Pike's Peak Poultry association, held last night in the form of a lawn party at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Johnson, No. [illegible] it was decided to hold the annual poultry show in this city on December 9-14, which is three or four weeks earlier than usual. More than 100 people interested in poultry attended the meeting and the pledges of exhibits promise to make this year's show the best ever seen in Colorado Springs. W. C. Ellison of Minneapolis, who is regarded as one of the best judges of poultry in the United States, was selected to judge the exhibits. From this city Mr. Ellison will go to the Pacific coast to judge a number of poultry shows to be given there during the winter. Messrs. Johnson, Grimmell, Hilton, Frock, Gilles, Cheadle, Varner, Henkle and Veditz were elected delegates to inspect the poultry exhibit at the Pueblo state fair next week. They will go to Pueblo next Thursday.

During the business session addresses were made by Dr. H. G. Grimmell, the Rev. R. S. Cheadle, A. A. Hilton, L. L. Johnson, G. W. Veditz and others. The business meeting was followed by a social hour, during which refreshments were served on the lawn, which was illuminated with Chinese lanterns.

MACWATTERS "MAKING GOOD"

Is Handling Big Proposition in Idaho for Eastern Men.

D. C. MacWatters, for many years general passenger agent of the Cripple Creek Short Line in this city, is "making good with a vengeance" as general superintendent of the Twin Falls North Side Land and Water company, which is now conducting improvements in southern Idaho, according to Major Fred R. Reed of Milner, Ida., who is a commissioner of the company.

Major Reed is spending a few days in this city and was enthusiastic regarding the work of the company and the excellent progress of Mr. MacWatters. The company will open 150,000 acres of land in Lincoln county, Idaho, under the Carey act, October 1.

Among the improvements being made by the company is the construction of a 60-mile electric, broad-gauge railroad from Milner through the newly-built towns of Jerome and Wendell. An irrigating system costing $3,000,000 is being built, and an enormous power plant, of 25,000 horsepower, is building on the Snake river. J. S. and W. S. Kuhn, the noted Pittsburg bankers, are financing the proposition. Major Reed is an old newspaper man, and is a member of the Chicago and the Idaho press clubs.

WILL TRY ONCE MORE

Divorced in 1904, Remarried Yesterday—Deaf Mutes Wed.

M. V. Fox and Mrs. Clara M. Fox, both of Calhan, El Paso county, who were divorced in Linden, Kan., in March, 1904, after 21 years of married life, secured a marriage license in the county clerk's office yesterday.

A license was also issued to Harry D. Mercer and Mary Loretta Donnelly, deaf mutes, both of Omaha, Neb. Mercer was divorced five years ago and John Donnelly, brother of the bride, was strenuously opposed to the wedding of his sister. While he was in this city trying to interfere with the wedding, Mercer and Miss Donnelly were quietly married by Justice O. R. Dunnington in the county clerk's office. Mercer was visiting in San Diego, Cal., and, hearing that his sweetheart had left Omaha with her brother for a brief stay in Colorado Springs, hastened to this city.

The Industrial Center of El Paso County

The reputation of Colorado City as a business place has always been high among the towns of the state. As an industrial center the city is one of the best in Colorado. The advent of new manufacturing plants has increased the total payroll of the plants in that vicinity by many thousands of dollars.

In addition to the several large reduction mills, most of the employes of which live in Colorado City, there are several new plants now doing business in the manufacturing line. The real estate interests were never brighter, and there has been a great increase in the value of real property within the last few months.

For a city of its size there is probably more money in daily circulation in Colorado City than in any other town in the state, and with the opening up of new enterprises now under way the commercial life is receiving a further stimulus.

SEVERAL NEW ORDINANCES

Colorado City Council Has Many New Laws Under Consideration.

Several ordinances will be introduced at the Colorado City council meeting September 16. One is in regard to contractors who wish to build concrete walks within the city limits. The contractor will be required to furnish a bond of $1,000 with two signatures, thus insuring satisfactory work. He will be required to use a certain grade cement and must agree to put in a walk which will stand all kinds of weather. In violation of any clause of the ordinance, the contractor will be fined not less than $5 or more than $100 for each offense.

An ordinance relating to electric signs will also be introduced. Under its provisions all electric signs must be constructed and wired according to the rules of the national underwriters' electrical code. They must be at least nine feet above the walk and must not extend over the walk more than eight feet. Those who wish to erect electric signs must first secure a permit from the building inspector and must have the sign made and hung under the personal supervision of an electrical inspector. For a violation of any clause of the ordinance, the offender will be fined not less than $5 or more than $100 for each offense.

One of the ordinances to be introduced provides for the employment of an expert electrical inspector. The inspector will be required to inspect the wiring of the fire alarm systems and keep the alarms in perfect order, and also to inspect all electrical wiring in public buildings and private homes. No wiring shall be done without his knowledge and permission. All electricians must register with the inspector before doing any work in the city. A bond of $500 must be furnished by an electrical company before contracting for work within the city limits. An offender will be fined not more than $50 or sentenced to 30 days in jail, or both.

Bert Webb, formerly a member of the Colorado City police and fire departments, has purchased a transfer and baggage outfit and will commence business in this city in the near future.

Work on the new Christian church is progressing rapidly and it is believed that the church will be ready for use by November 1. The floors have been laid and the studding are in place.

Dr. J. F. Willard, who has been mining in Lincoln gulch, Colo., for the last two months, writes to his wife, Mrs. J. F. Willard, that he is having great success and believes that the mine will soon be on a paying basis. He has sent a large number of fine specimens to Mrs. Willard which she would be glad to show to all who wish to see them.

John Harper, a former resident of Colorado City, was seriously injured in an explosion at the Ruby mine, near Leadville, last Saturday. A miner lighted the fuse for a blast and did not give the proper warning in time for Harper to get out of the way and as a result he was badly cut and bruised with flying stone. He will recover, but will be injured for life.

The Cunningham Candy factory on Colorado avenue began operations yesterday and has already turned out a large quantity of high grade goods. All the new machinery has arrived and has been placed in operation. The factory is open for the inspection of visitors who are welcome at any time. A special sale of candy will be held tomorrow.

It is estimated that, by the end of the week, there will be enrolled in the schools of this city, 15 per cent more pupils than were enrolled last year. The gain is accounted for by the fact that a large number of families have recently moved to this city, most of which are living near the Midland school. The enrollment this year is expected to run close to the 1,000 mark. The schools opened last Tuesday.

FIRST SOCIALIST ELECTED.

For the first time in English history a Socialist has been elected to the house of commons. He took his seat last week, and the other members of the house scowled on him. For 25 years the Fabian society has been preaching socialism in England, but this is its first electoral victory. The new member is only 25 years old.

Society

The first dance of the Colorado City Social club will be given in the Waycott Opera house about October 1. The dances were very popular last year and an effort will be made to make them equally so this year. A good orchestra will be secured to furnish the music.

The Colorado City Loyal Temperance legion is making plans for the winter months. A series of interesting programs is being arranged and a course of study and work mapped out. The work was not passed during the warm summer months, but renewed interest is being shown by the members in anticipation of the winter meetings.

The Colorado City W. C. T. U. will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the W. C. T. U. hall on Colorado avenue. Election of officers for the ensuing year will be held and other important business transacted. Plans for the year's work will also be made. All who are interested in temperance work are requested to be present.

A meeting of the American Girls' club will be held in the near future when the club will be re-organized and officers for the ensuing year elected. Some of the old members have moved away and there are a few vacancies to be filled. The membership is restricted to 14. Several dances and parties will be given during the winter months.

Court News

Police Chief Gregory, who has been ill for several days, is able to be on duty again.

Alderman J. B. Sims has been using about 10 men from the city jail each day to clean up the streets and cut the weeds in all parts of the city.

The following men were fined $5 and costs in police court yesterday morning for drunkenness: Lyman Sackett, Charles Johnson, J. W. Comble, John Clarence, W. H. Smith, G. B. Morris, Bob Edwards, Andrew Genis and John Shay. Thomas Kelley was fined $5 and costs for vagrancy.

The vacancy in the fire department will not be filled until the next meeting of the Colorado City council, which will be held September 16. There will be several applicants for the position, but no one will be appointed who has not a thorough knowledge of horses and will agree to keep the position for at least six months.

The Colorado City council is having a large number of electric lights with reflectors placed in the alleys between Third and Fifth streets south of Colorado avenue. These alleys have long been a source of trouble to the police department owing to their darkness. The lights will be put in by the last of this week and the police department assures better service in this district in the future.

Con Posey, a full-blooded Cherokee Indian from Muskogee, I. T., was fined $15 and costs in police court yesterday morning for drunkenness and creating a disturbance. Posey, accompanied by his wife, who is a white woman, came to Colorado City about 10 days ago to spend a few weeks. Since their arrival Posey has been causing the police department a great deal of trouble, which terminated in Posey trying to clean out the Hiawatha saloon Wednesday night.

COLORADO CITY IS BOOMING

Is Enjoying Unusual Degree of Prosperity.—Future Prospects Are Bright.

Colorado City is enjoying an unsual degree of prosperity. The tourist season has been the best in the city's history and the opening of the works of the Progressive Stove & Furnace company has brought a large number of skilled workmen to the city. Several more will be employed as soon as the foundry is in full working order. The opening of the Cunningham and the Mack Candy factories has also given the city two paying industries. Mack's factory has been in full operation for several months and hundreds of pounds of candy is manufactured and shipped out each week. The Cunningham factory commenced operations yesterday and will soon be shipping to out-of-town customers.

All the hotels, boarding and rooming houses have been full all summer and there was not a vacant house in the city during a great part of the tourist season.

TO BUILD BATTLESHIPS

England Undeterred by Hague Congress, Which Will Not Bring Millennium.

From the New York Tribune.

LONDON—The Hague congress for the regulation of sea power has failed to reduce the British construction of battleships. The admiralty has never taken a serious view of the pledge to build two ships in place of three if the maritime powers were virtuous enough to agree to cut down naval armaments. Engineers have been working secretly on plans for three ships, and each will be heavier than the Dreadnought and will have more powerful batteries. The moral pose taken by the government for sentimental effect has not been without practical advantage. It has given the experts time for revising calculations and readjustments, based upon the substitution of turbines for ordinary engines, and has enabled them to increase the tonnage of its vessels and the weight of the primary and secondary armaments. The Dreadnought has been tested more critically and thoroughly than any other vessel ever commissioned by the admiralty, and the three battleships to be laid down in November will be faster, stronger and more formidable fighting machines, differing in several respects from the Bellerophon, recently launched.

A Meeting of Kings.

There is no official intimation that the opening stage of the construction of three more Dreadnoughts will be one of the expedients adopted for the entertainment of the German emperor when he pays his long deferred visit to England in November. That will be a great affair of state, carried out with unwonted splendor at Windsor, Sandringham being reserved for less important royal guests, such as the king and queen of Spain and the king and queen of Norway, who are expected in the autumn. There will be banquets, theatricals, hunting in Windsor forest, and Dreadnoughts, British or German, will not be mentioned. The Hague congress will have dispersed without bringing the millennium nearer, and two most powerful sovereigns will again be on exhibition, as they have been this week, as real peacemakers, willing and able to reconcile jealous nations and substitute good will for suspicion. The king is also credited at foreign capitals with arranging at Ischl with the emperor of Austria a fresh European concert for Macedonian reforms, and with providing safeguards at Wilhelmshoe for French and Spanish police work in Morocco, where the military forces must be largely increased for the restoration of order.

Even without these hypothetical strokes of diplomacy the king has done enough to earn the big Cullinan diamond which General Botha wishes the Transvaal to buy and present to him, when the distrust between Germany and England prevailing since the emperor's dispatch to President Kruger is removed and France smiles kindly at each in turn and is content to forget both Egypt and Alsace-Lorraine. It is a greater miracle of grace than has yet been witnessed at The Hague congress. Still, all three powers continue to have faith in sea power, and will build Dreadnoughts with all possible efficiency and dispatch.

OFF FOR DREARY MIDWAY.

Most newspaper readers doubtless remember the case of the Nevins—Lieutenant John D. Nevin, U. S. M. C., and his bride. Lieutenant Nevin, it will be recalled, was assigned to duty on Midway island, that lonely bit of land between, and a little north of, the Hawaiian and Philippine islands, on which stands one of the Pacific cable stations. Not every woman would care to go to such a spot to spend even a few years of her life, but Mrs. Nevin loved her husband so much that she was not only willing, but glad, to go. Then the government which was sending her husband into exile stepped in and made it impossible for the two to go together. Lieutenant Nevin was ordered to sail on the Annapolis some time ago, and his wife made all arrangements to accompany him. At the last moment, she was refused passage on the Annapolis, and the young husband went out to his dreary post without her. Midway island does not lie in the track of all the regular Pacific liners, and thus the disappointment was all the greater, for it was not certain when the young wife would be able to get a ship that would carry her there. Going as far as Honolulu, she waited there patiently for her chance, and about two weeks ago it came. Honolulu papers just to hand contain the information that she sailed from the Hawaiian port July 14 on the United States transport Sheridan, Manila bound, the first stop of which was to be at Midway, where some stores for the marines under Lieutenant Nevin were to be discharged. Mrs. Nevin has therefore been with her husband several days now.

The Sheridan also took to the Philippines some of the members of the second party of United States congressmen who have been in Hawaii for some time.

JO DANDY MILL BUSY

IS HANDLING NINETY TONS OF ORE DAILY.

Splendid Extraction Secured at Cost of $1.20 a Ton—McDougal Roasters to Be Installed

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Sept. 5.—The Jo Dandy cyanide mill, which has only recently been treating ore, is now handling at the rate of 90 tons per day. Only oxidized ore, which is mined at has been mined and stoped to the surface level, is now being run through the mill. This ore is of a better grade than is usually handled at cyanide plants and will probably run between $12 and $20 in gold to the ton.

The company is able to get a splendid extraction at a cost of $1.20 per ton. The company is thoroughly satisfied that refractory rock can be handled with the McDougal roasters, and this company expects within the next year to install three of them at a cost of $9,000. There is an unlimited supply of ore in the Jo Dandy mine. In fact there are now thousands of tons blocked out waiting to be mined and run through the mill, and of this supply a large portion is of smelter grade. The shaft on the Jo Dandy has only been sunk to the 600-foot point, and it is reasonably certain that the ore bodies will be found at depth in as good grade as in the upper workings. The prospects for this property are most flattering and the indications are that a huge sum of money will be realized from the mine and mill. Eventually the management may conclude to handle custom ore, but at the present time the management is treating only the ore mined from this property.

ORE RUNS 20 OUNCES

RICH EIGHT-INCH STREAK IS FOUND IN OLD GOLD.

Lessee Parlin Makes Valuable Discovery on West Slope of Beacon Hill.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Sept. 5.—Lessee Parlin, who took a lease on the Old Gold property, on the west slope of Beacon hill, adjoining the El Paso and Henry Adney properties, a few weeks ago, is reported to have opened up an eight-inch streak of ore that is practically solid sylvanite. It is known that the ore is running dollars to the pound from the streak and that on each side of it the ore is being broken down and will run from 12 to 20 ounces in carload lots. Only a small tonnage is being made at the present time, and the high-grade is being sent out in sacks after a certain quantity is obtained.

FIVE-OUNCE ORE IN GRANITE

Stewart and Company Are Shipping a Good Grade—Ten Sets of Lessees on Property.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Sept. 4.—Stewart and company, working a lease on Granite territory through the Old Gold Coin shaft at a depth of 300 feet, have some ore about two to three feet wide which is giving them returns of five ounces in gold to the ton. The ore is being mined in a stope. The first shipment was sent out Tuesday.

Ticker and company, working in the same workings on the 500-foot level, are breaking ore three feet wide from which they are shipping ore that runs from one to one and a half ounces in gold to the ton.

The Granite company is operating between the 900 and 1,000-foot levels on its own account and is shipping out a considerable quantity of ore of a good mill grade. The company has some 10 sets of lessees working in different parts of the property and each one is getting out some ore. The tonnage which is being maintained by the Granite company from all over its territory is about 2,000 tons per month and the grade is reported to be running about $20 in gold to the ton.

RICH POCKET IS ENCOUNTERED

Abe Jones Finds Five Ounce Ore on Little Womack Hill in Stratton Estate.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Sept. 5.—Abe Jones, who is working in a block of ground belonging to the Stratton estate on Little Womack hill immediately east of this city and adjoining the Lady Campbell property, at a depth of from 60 to 70 feet has opened up a fine pocket of ore. It cannot be called a vein and as most of the ore which has been found in this vicinity is in pockets, the same is true with the find of Jones. The ore is said to be giving values of from three to five ounces. The ore was found in the New Boston claim which was one of the last pieces of property purchased by the late W. S. Stratton. There is considerable work being done in this section of the camp at the present time and several parties have recently encountered good ore.

STOCK BROKER FAILS

ANNOUNCEMENT FOLLOWED BY BUOYANT RECOVERY.

First Failure of a Stock Exchange Firm to Be Recorded During the Spring and Summer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5. The bad news which has been supposed to be hanging over the stock market eventuated today in the announcement of the failure of a stock exchange house, after which, and the Burlington dividend declaration, there was a buoyant recovery from the weakness which had been in evidence yesterday and early today. This is the first failure of a stock exchange firm which has occurred through all the drastic contraction of values of securities of the spring and summer, a record which has been the subject of surprise. That the troubles which pulled the firm down were not of the immediate past was the general supposition, current pointing to the shrinkage of some of the Northwestern railroad group, among the earliest in the severe decline, as the origin of the embarrassment.

The incident called attention to the fact that an installment of $3,000,000 of Great Northern stock, subscriptions to payable tomorrow and received consideration of these recurrent requirements for capital already subscribed but not paid for. September 20 there is payable the final installment on the Union Pacific convertible bonds, which will call for $37,500,000. It was intimated today that there would be no extension of the syndicate which underwrote these bonds, and also that only a small portion of the syndicate's holdings has been marketed. On October 1 again there falls due $11,400,000 for subscriptions to Northern Pacific stock. No small part of the uneasiness prevalent in the stock market has been due to knowledge of the difficulties involved in finding resources for meeting accruing calls of this kind by reason of the tight money market.

The fact of the failure as an after effect of events so far in the past left an unpleasant impression on sentiment. The feeling of relief over having the matter out of the way overbore other considerations and also left a short interest uncovered that had sold stocks on early information of the trouble.

The special weakness of the Hill stocks in the early dealings on account of the coming failure was supplemented by depression in the copper stocks. There was another break in the prices of copper in London and feeling was not settled as to the stability of the price of copper here on the level of this week. On the other hand, advices from the iron trade were encouraging. The easier tone of time money was still evident, but rates for call loans were slightly stiffer. The extra dividend on Burlington stock confirmed rumors many times renewed in the past of an intended melon cutting for the Hill stockholders, but the increase in the regular dividend rate was a surprise. The announcement coming in the midst of the unfavorable influences of the stock exchange firm's failure on these stocks caused a violent upward reaction and turned the whole market buoyant, in which state it remained until closing. Bonds were firm.

Total sales, par value, $972,000. United States is declined ¼ on call.

GRAIN TAKES A DROP

WHEAT DOWN ALMOST TWO CENTS AT THE CLOSE

Corn Down a Half Cent, but Oats, However, Are Higher, and Provisions Practically Unchanged.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—The wheat market suffered a divided reaction today because of a falling off in the export demand and lower prices in foreign markets. At the close December wheat was 1¾@1¾ lower, corn was down ½, oats were ¼ higher and provisions were unchanged to 5 lower.

At the immediate opening today in the wheat market prices broke heavily, being all the way from ½ to 1¾ below the close of yesterday. The cause of the decline was lower cables at Liverpool and on the continent. It was also reported that foreigners were balking at the stiff price demanded for cash grain. Nevertheless, they bought freely on the decline. Local holders dumped large lines of wheat on the market at the opening and as shorts were largely out of the market, prices received but little support. The reports concerning the condition and quality of the new crop were conflicting. It was declared, however, that much of it showed damage by frost. The speculative demand was very heavy. Late in the day prices advanced slightly on the report that the weakness in continental markets was not as great as originally reported. December opened 1 to 1¼ lower at 99¾ to 99⅞ and sold between 96¾ and 100⅝ and closed easy at 99.

Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 243,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,111,000 bushels, against 613,000 bushels on the same day last year. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 452 cars, against 290 cars last week and 330 cars a year ago.

The trade in corn today was very heavy. December corn opened unchanged to ⅛ lower, at 61¾ to 61⅞, sold between 60¾ and 62¼, and closed easy at 60⅝. Local receipts were 225 cars, with 67 of contract grade.

Trading in oats was very light and the market held firm throughout the day on the constant covering by shorts, a large proportion of whom were country dealers, who find that their grain will not grade as contract. December opened ¼ lower to ½ higher, at 52¾ to 53, and closed at 53¾. Local receipts were 208 cars.

The provisions market opened firm because of large shipments and fair buying of January lard. At the close, October pork was five lower, at $15.65; lard was 5 lower, at $9.10; ribs were unchanged to 2½ lower, at $8.67½@8.70.
